In mathematics, a system of linear equations (or linear system) is a collection of two or more linear equations involving the same set of variables. For example,  $x + y = 1$ ,  $x + z = 2$ ,  $x + y + z = 3$  is a system of three equations in the three variables  $x$ ,  $y$ ,  $z$ . A solution to a linear system is an assignment of values to the variables such that all the equations are simultaneously satisfied.

In mathematics, and more specifically in linear algebra and functional analysis, the kernel (also known as null space or nullspace) of a linear map  $L : V \rightarrow W$  between two vector spaces  $V$  and  $W$ , is the set of all elements  $v$  of  $V$  for which  $L(v) = 0$ , where  $0$  denotes the zero vector in  $W$ . That is, in set-builder notation,  $\text{ker } L = \{v \in V \mid L(v) = 0\}$ .

The incremental learning derives its name from the incremental nature of the learning process. In incremental learning, all facets of knowledge receive a regular treatment, and there is a regular inflow of new knowledge that builds upon the past knowledge.
